New Service Charge Plan Adopted by Marion Banks

System of Monthly Charges and Credits Become Effective Feb 21

A new system of computing service charges on checking accounts in Marion banks will be put into effect by the banks Feb 21 The mails today carried letters and folders from each bank to its customers explaining the new plan

The new plan is called by bankers a measured service charge and will replace the fixed service charge of 50 cents a month on all accounts averaging less than $100 a month which has been in effect here for the last few years

Under the new plan all accounts regardless of size will be charged with a fixed maintenance expense of 50 cents a month In addition to this each depositor will be charged three and one half cents for each check written on his account and a charge of two and one half cents will be made for collection of checks on out of town banks and deposited in the customer's account.

However the plan also provides for a service credit on earnings based on the average balance for each month This service credit will be applied to offset as far as possible the service charges In some cases the result will be that the service credits and the service charges will balance with the result that there will be no charge against the depositor's account

Plan Illustrated

The folder received by checking account depositors in the mails today cites an example of the manner in which the plan operates

An account on which the average balance for any particular month is $450 is cited as an example For purposes of computing the charge against the account for any particular month the bank deducts 20 per cent which represents the cash reserve on all its deposits the bank is required by law to maintain Twenty per cent of $450 is $90 Subtracting this from the average balance leaves $360 On the $360 then the depositor is allowed a three per cent service credit which amounts to 90 cents a month based on one twelfth of a yearly earning of $10 80

The depositor's 90 cents service credit then is set up to offset so far as possible the service charge built by checks written against the account

The folder continues the illustration by explaining the manner in which the service charges are built up If the depositor writes 22 checks in the month there is a charge of 77 cents at the rate of three and one half cents for each check Then if the depositor deposits for collection six checks on out of town banks he is charged an additional 15 cents at the rate of two and one half cents for each check

The charges of 77 cents and 15 cents together with the fixed

Twin Saved by Brother's Blood Leaves Hospital

Mahlon Gast Returns Home With Complete Recovery Virtually Assured

With his twin's blood coursing in his veins and a physician's assurance that four weeks of building up will bring complete recovery Mahlon Gast 15-year-old Harding High school senior and football player was removed from the City hospital to his home at 174 South Main street yesterday afternoon

The Gast blood transfusions were unusual in City hospital records because it was a twin who was the donor

Hamilton the twin gave a pint and a half of blood in two transfusions on Jan 27 and 28

The mother Mrs Alice Gast and ever so many friends concerned over the seriousness of the streptococcus infection which was slowly sapping Mahlon's life offered themselves for the transfusions But the physician when he found the twins blood of identical types insisted that Hamilton be the donor and Hamilton was equally insistent that he be the one to give the blood that meant his brother's life.

Hamilton was put on a blood making diet to prepare him if a third transfusion was necessary but the two were sufficient to bring his brother renewed life

After the first transfusion on Jan 27 at 6 p m Mahlon began to show slight signs of interest in those about him and after the second at 4 p m the next day the eye veins began to show and the long slow road to recovery began For days his condition remained "still serious but gradually his strength began to return and yesterday an ambulance took him home two weeks from the day he was admitted to the hospital.

The streptococcus infection affected the intestines and resulted in severe hemorrhages which weakened him so that the blood transfusions were imperative

Mahlon is employed by The Star as a carrier on the South Main street route and Hamilton is employed in The Star mailing room.

FOOD SALES TAX REPEAL TO SAVE $100,000 HERE

Treasurer Cole Makes Estimate on Basis of Stamp Income So Far This Year.

Marion county housewives may expect to save nearly $100,000 this year on their grocery bills as a result of the repeal of the three per cent levy on food for home consumption at the general election last November, according to estimates based on weekly sales of tax stamps thus far this year. Conservative estimates place the drop in receipts from the sale of stamps for the year from [illegible] last year to [illegible] in 1937

Abolition of the food tax has had an adverse effect in the county, however, in the natural falling off of the county's share of revenue from the state. Estimates of the state tax commission recently received by County Auditor Harry V Mounts place the county's 1937 grant at $80,871, or about $12 000 less than last year's county revenue from the stamps.

First check from the state for 1937 sales tax revenue was in the mailbox of Mr Mounts yesterday—for $4,340.22, the smallest sales tax check received by the county in the two years of the tax's existence. The smallest previous [illegible] for $6,110 in January, [illegible]

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O Feb 11 An emergency necessity for raising approximately $36 000 000 commanded the Ohio legislature's attention today after it voted $3 000 000 for poor relief requirements until April 15

Officials estimated the needs for the additional funds as $19 000 000 to finance relief during the remainder of the year about $11 000 000 to repair highways damaged by floods and $6 000 000 to aid communities ravaged by high waters

Only $3 000 000 is definitely in sight That is the remainder of $6 000 000 in sales tax revenue set aside for relief

Local Taxes Suggested

The administration of Gov Martin L Davey has proposed legislation which would enable the counties and municipalities to levy local taxes for relief purposes and legislators have requested the federal government to contribute several million dollars for flood re*habilitation*

The legislature completed action on the stop gap relief bill and sent it to Gov Davey for his signature

The senate amended the bill to increase the salary of the state relief commission chairman from $350

GMC SHARES JUMP TO SIX-YEAR HIGH

Other Motors and Steels Do Likewise Before Profit-Taking Sets In

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb 11—General Motors shares jumped briskly ahead to a new high for about six years in the stock exchange today on the strike settlement and some other motors and steels likewise thrust into new high recovery ground.

In spite of the aggressive forward drive of these groups profit selling washed through some other sections of the market, bringing losses of several cents to $1 or more a share early this afternoon.

Chrysler moved uncertainly [illegible] early afternoon.

Up several cents to around [illegible] share shortly after noon were General Motors, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Goodrich, Studebaker and Santa Fe.

Cooking School Answers Two Great Questions

"When Do We Eat?" and "What Can We Eat?" Quickly Determined

Mrs Bertha Harris

One of the necessities for a cooking school is explained by the variation in a short question familiar to every home. Mr Householder wants to know "When do we eat?" whereas Mrs Householder asks plaintively "What can we eat?"

Recognizing the temptation to slump into a rut in meal planning, The Star is bringing fresh incentive and brand new ideas through the four sessions of a free institute for homemakers on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week in The Star auditorium.

Here a nationally known authority on foods and homemaking, Mrs Bertha Harris, will go into conference daily with her eager classes on subjects important to every housekeeper. These wide awake sessions automatically solve that ever present problem of serving "the same old thing," says Mrs Harris.

Even before the entertaining demonstration starts, the daily recipe sheet suggests new dishes so tempting that the very thought of eating them is an irresistible appetizer. Then comes a constant succession of helpful cookery hints and suggested displays for standard foods, all presented under findingly by the alert lecturer while she is busy on the fascinating kitchen laboratory platform.

While a fluffy cake is in the hot oven giving forth its tantalizing fragrance, Mrs Harris takes time to explain the advantages of the immaculate equipment in her model kitchen. Every homemaker is interested in the latest developments designed to simplify her daily duties. Mrs Harris finds and everything in use on the platform—from measuring spoons and mixing bowls to the shining ranges and noiseless, economical refrigerators—is inventoried by the battery of watching eyes.

An index of this keen attention is found in the constructive questions which are sent to the platform on slips conveniently attached to the printed recipe sheet. Mrs Harris will reserve time to answer all written questions.

Many firms are joining forces with The Marion Star in making possible the four free sessions of the school. These participants are providing a generous array of displays which the women may inspect before and after the lecture and demonstration.

Admission is absolutely free. Notebooks and pencils are needed, not tickets. The doors of the auditorium will be open early for the back to school rush starting Tuesday.

Interests of Young People Fill Major Place in Salvation Army Program

Shown above is a group of the younger children at their desks during the study hour at the Salvation Army hall on West Center street. More than 20 children ranging in ages from five to 11 years are enrolled in the class. Needlework, drawing and other educational studies are followed and at the close of the study hour the children are entertained with a series of games and contests. Miss Mary Ellen Loper is supervisor of the group.

CHILD training is one of the most important departments in the program of the Salvation Army corps in Marion and funds raised in the annual drive to be sponsored next week under the auspices of the Advisory board will aid in promoting the army's work with young people. Elmer L. Welmer is general chairman of the teams made up of approximately 150 men and women of Marion which will launch the drive for $5,000 next Monday night.

Captain and Mrs Rothwell Stickley give a large part of their time to the work of the young people and their program of activities is arranged to provide something of interest from the tiniest tot to the grown young man and woman.

Too much emphasis can not be placed on the work with young people, Captain Stickley stated in discussing his work.

100 Enrolled

The various organizations are made up of children and young people in the Sunday school and in all approximately 100 tiny tots and juniors are provided with regular schedules of weekly recreational entertainment, handicraft and sports.

Little girls from the age of 5 to 11 are enrolled as Sunbeams. Meetings are held each Wednesday at 6 p m and a course of training for future membership in the Girl Guards is provided. Tests are provided as the work progresses. A study hour of tests, lessons and routine takes up about one and one half hours of the children's time and later there is a half hour of play and recreational games.

Club Organized

An organization which was most enthusiastically welcomed by the young boys of the Sunday school is the Red Shield club. Membership in this club, which was organized in January of this year, means a chance at playing on the Army club. Officers of the club are Virgil Smith, secretary, Rothwell Stickley Jr, treasurer, and Robert Sturgeon, captain. The club meets on Fridays of each week. Membership in the club is from 10 years of age up and one of the requirements is that the boys adhere to the creed and keep their language up to the high standard set by the members.

The Girl Guards, which correspond to the Girl Scouts in the regular organization, follow a program of physical culture, drill and handcraft. The 14 members range in ages from 11 to 18 and are under the leadership of Miss Helen Stangers.

20 in Boys Group

Twenty boys make up a group which meets each Saturday afternoon in the recreational hall at the Salvation Army citadel on West Center street. Here they follow a constructive program in handicraft work under the supervision of Captain Stickley. Their work remains at the hall until it is completed when it is taken home. So interested do they become in the work that they continue through all the summer months varying their program with outdoor activities.

For the older girls there is a splendid program of needlework which includes the dressing of dolls and sewing for themselves. Girls also are given an opportunity to develop their own ideas by working with [illegible] and [illegible] vocational aptitude. Miss Mary Ellen Loper is leader of this group which meets each Saturday afternoon at the citadel.

We aim to place the leadership within their own ranks as much as possible, teaching them self reliance and the development of judgment, Captain Stickley said in discussing his young people's program.

HARDING DEBATERS LOSE CONTEST WITH FINDLAY

Winning Team Has Negative Side in Discussion of Government Operation of Utilities.

Arguing against government ownership and operation of all electric utilities, the Findlay High school debate team was declared winner of a match with Harding High school debaters last night in the east assembly room at the Marion school. Approximately 50 persons were in the audience, including the debate coaches, T. D. Hain of Harding and A. L. Mattoon of Findlay.

Judges were Attorneys Lewis M. Francis, William K. Davis and Carter M. Patton of Marion.

Each speaker on the two-person teams was given 12 minutes for constructive speeches and five minutes in rebuttal.

Margaret Hufford and John Imbody presented the arguments for government ownership and operation and David Stuntz and Billy Hover were on the Findlay team. A non-decision meet between teams from both schools was on at the same time, with John Grimes and Harold Stafford representing Harding and Lee Haas and Millard Saul speaking for Findlay.

Tom Mullett was chairman of the decision debate and Josephine Frank presided for the non-decision discussion of the question.

In the decision debate, the negative speakers averred that present conditions do not call for any change from the present system, and combatted affirmative allegations.

Affirmative Points

Evils of the present system, as pointed out by the Harding debaters, are the conflict between public interests and private ownership, overcapitalization, holding companies, extortionate earnings and "vicious propaganda" carried on through schools, universities and colleges, and the affirmation that in other uses government ownership has been successfully and profitably operated. The affirmative speakers also argued that exorbitant sums are spent in litigation, that government ownership would mean reduced rates, and that under government ownership power could be sold at cost to communities, with local distributors under management and the entire setup responsible to control by the state public utilities commission.

Negative Arguments

Debaters on the negative team argued that the government operated the postoffice department at a loss in 1935, the merchant marine during the World war, and railroads from 1918 to '20, that overcapitalization is valid since the write-up has been only five per cent, that private utilities last year served more new subscribers than the Rural Electrification Administration, that under government ownership and operation policies, the spoils system and political patronage would enter into any system of government ownership, and that comparisons have shown that under municipal ownership rates are 26 per cent higher than under private ownership.

Harding debaters will have a non-decision match with Kenton affirmative and negative teams next Tuesday afternoon at Harding High school.

PLEASANT TOWNSHIP DOG OWNER FINED

County Dog Warden Elmer Ullom continued his drive against faulty registration of dogs in the county today as he announced L. O. McAdow of Pleasant township had been arrested and fined $10 and $4 costs for harboring two dogs without licenses. McAdow pleaded guilty yesterday before Justice of the Peace Melvin Strine at Waldo.

In addition to the fine and costs, McAdow was ordered to pay $6 for two tags for female dogs. Of the cost of the tags $2 was penalty for late purchase. The total cost to McAdow for tags which would have originally cost $2 was $20. Warden Ullom said it is the fifth arrest and fine in 1937.

YOUR INCOME TAX

NO. 16

Losses On Stock Transactions

No gain or loss is recognized for income-tax purposes as a result of the exchange of stock or securities in a corporation solely for stock or securities in another corporation in pursuance of a plan of reorganization to which both corporations are parties or as a result of the exchange of stock or securities in a corporation in connection with a recapitalization. Where money or other property is received along with such exchanges, no loss is recognized, although a taxable gain may result. Your Health

BY DR. R. S. COPELAND

Influenza.

INFLUENZA and the common cold are disabilities which closely resemble each other and, in most respects, differ only in severity. It is well to be familiar with the difference between them and to realize that neither should be considered a trivial disorder.

The common cold is a catarrhal condition of the nose and throat. It often spreads to the nasal sinuses. The sufferer from this condition in mild form may have few symptoms. The attack may be more severe, sometimes described as a "grippey" cold; then there are more positive symptoms.

Fever, headache, weakness and general aching are a few of the complaints caused by this type of the disorder. If you suffer from these attacks, you know how miserable you can be.

Let us now consider influenza. This condition is the most severe form of the infections attacking the upper part of the breathing apparatus. The victim complains of chilly sensations, fever and extreme prostration. The infection may spread rapidly to the parts below the throat. As a rule, the sufferer has a dry, hacking cough, with pain in the chest. He coughs up a large amount of mucus.

Influenza is not a mild disease. It is a serious one, often leading to dangerous complications. It may occur at any time of the year and, like pneumonia, respects neither age nor sex. It is exceedingly dangerous in the very young and the aged.

The disease is highly contagious and rapidly spreads from one person to another. The person with influenza should be isolated and avoided by all who are not compelled to be near him. The disease is even more dangerous when it comes in epidemic form, as it did in 1918.

Sufferers from influenza require the utmost care and skillful medical attention. Complete rest in bed, proper nourishment and the taking of certain medicines will hasten recovery and prevent such complications as pneumonia, middle ear infection, nasal sinusitis, bronchitis and other dangerous conditions.

QUICK! STOP THAT COLD
IN THE DRY OR FIRST STAGE!

A cold ordinarily goes through three stages:

The Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage.

A cold is twice as easily stopped in the first as in the second or third stages. In fact, to let a cold run beyond the first stage is inviting trouble.

Expressly for Colds!

As your doctor will tell you, there is nothing better you can take for a cold than Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine.

It is expressly a cold tablet and not a "cure-all". It is internal treatment which a cold requires. It does four important things.

First, it opens the bowels. Second, it checks the infection in the system. Third, it relieves the headache and fever. Fourth, it tones the system and helps fortify against further attack.

That's the fourfold treatment you want and in Bromo Quinine you get it in the form of a single tablet.

Bromo Quinine tablets now come sugar-coated as well as plain. The sugar-coated are exactly the same as the regular, except that the tablets are coated with sugar for palatability.

Don't Delay!

When a cold threatens, don't compromise, don't delay. Go right to your druggist for a package of Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine.

Start taking the tablets immediately, two every four hours. Used promptly, Bromo Quinine will usually break up a cold in 24 hours.

Ask your druggist firmly for Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine tablets and don't be talked into accepting a substitute.

The few pennies' cost may save you much worry and much expense.

WPA DITCH PROJECT APPROVED BY BOARD

[illegible] Drain in Scott Township To Be Improved at Cost of $3,760.

County commissioners yesterday approved WPA plans for construction work and cleaning of the 35-[illegible] county ditch in Scott township. The total project will cost [illegible] of which 80 per cent will be paid by the federal government through WPA and 20 per cent by a group of seven landowners who will benefit by the work.

The project involved grubbing and cleaning of 4,000 feet of open ditch, taking up and re-laying of [illegible] feet of tile, repairing of the tile at the outlet of the ditch and construction of a new concrete head wall. More than a year ago the ditch was scheduled for cleaning under a blanket state project for cleaning ditches and small streams throughout the state, but the work was never begun.

It will provide 17 laborers and one foreman with slightly less than three months work. Carl H. Tozzer, county engineer, has been named to supervise the project. Future maintenance of the ditch will be the duty of the county on petition of the landowners.

Labor will cost $2,888 in federal money and $77 in sponsors' money, while materials will cost $122 in federal funds and $673 in sponsors' funds.

MRS. FRANK SIMPSON

"That is how I was feeling when I started taking Vendol. It soon relieved the constipation then everything changed, and now I feel good all the time.

"I have a good appetite and everything agrees with me perfectly. I never feel dizzy and I sleep like a baby. I wouldn't take anything for having found this wonderful medicine Vendol."

Vendol is wonderful for the stomach, is a mild diuretic for the kidneys, a splendid appetizer and relieves constipation quickly. Right now is the time to take this splendid medicine.

Don't Make Valentine Gifts Too Personal Writer Advises

BY JOAN DARHAM
Associated Press Feature Writer

With Valentine's day reminders staring at him from every other shop window these days many a young man is wondering what to do about Valentine's day.

He can't make up his mind about whether to send the object (or objects) of his attentions flowers, candy or books, more personal gifts, or nothing at all.

According to generally-accepted rules, he shouldn't send gifts which are too personal to anyone except his fiancee. (That means lingerie, hose and so on.) Books or candy—those old standbys—are perfectly in order if he really wants to send something. Flowers more or less denote a "beau" in the old-fashioned sense of the word.

The art of giving gifts in general is fairly complicated.

To Repay Hospitality

Gifts, for instance, are an excellent means of paying back hospitality, although most hostesses would much prefer to have a pleasant guest than to receive the most handsome gifts.

The individual who is without a home in which he or she can entertain will find more occasion to present gifts. But it will take a little thought and tact on his part to make the gift both acceptable and not too I've-got-to-pay-you-back-this-way.

The value of the gift should depend upon the purse of the donor and whether he has been a guest for a single evening or as long as several weeks. Gifts are not necessary, for the most part, in the former case. They are nearly compulsory in the latter.

Way To Hostess' Heart

Often the way to a hostess' heart is through her children. Consequently, a convenient medium through which gifts may be given to her may be her children, if she has any. The guest may take them candy or well-chosen toys, first checking with their mother—before giving them to the children—to see that she doesn't object. Or he may send them something a short time after he leaves.

The point is to do gift-giving inconspicuously. The moment the guest is greeted he shouldn't thrust a package at his hostess. And he shouldn't pull it out in a roomful of other guests—to the embarrassment of those who may not have brought gifts. In other words, he should make his presentation as casual as possible.

FALSE TEETH

"Stay Put" Says Druggist.

"With my gums gradually shrinking I had difficulty keeping my plate in position with various denture powders. Most of them lasted only a few hours. Now I use FASTEETH and what a difference! I now wear my plate for 24 hours with absolute security and comfort. Fasteeth does not wash away or become thinned out, but "STAYS PUT" until I am ready to remove plate. FASTEETH is tasteless. Does not sour or cause foul breath. Holds false teeth all day long."

Accept only FASTEETH to enjoy false teeth comfort like you've never had before. Ask for FASTEETH at any good drug store. —Adv.

WPA WORKERS START MACADAMIZING ALLEYS

18 To Be Rebuilt in $30,000 Project Sponsored by City, Will Employ 75 Men

Macadamizing of a group of 18 alleys in the central part of the city was started today by WPA workmen Erwin J Nesper county WPA engineer announced. The project sponsored by the city through funds raised by a special mill and a half levy last fall will cost $30 000 and require from two to four months for completion.

Started today were two alleys near Columbia street and Park boulevard by a crew of about 25 workers who yesterday put finishing touches on the relaying of brick in Orchard street now open to traffic for the first time in about two months.

Federal funds for the project total $18 000 and city funds $12 000. In all about a mile and one half of alleys now surfaced with merely crushed stone dirt cinders or other loose material will be bedded with crushed stone and given a hard macadam surface. Later in the summer it is expected they will be treated with a tar composition making them dustless.

Virtually all the alleys included in the project lie in the area bounded by Park boulevard Columbia street Vine street and the east west railroad tracks.

Among the alleys to be rebuilt are One from State to High behind the postoffice one between High and State running north from Columbia to Pleasant one running north from Columbia to Church between Pearl and Prospect one between Prospect and Main running north from Columbia one between Main and State running north from Columbia two between Prospect and Oak running north from Center to the railroad.

Tom S Cathers city engineer and Mr Nesper said 75 men will be employed within a week on the work. Mr Cathers said a similar project for rebuilding dirt stone and other loosely bound streets in the city is under consideration.

Exercise Tank At School Assured in Short Time

Installation of an exercise tank for infantile paralysis victims at the Marion Crippled Childrens school will be a goal realized within a month.

Assurance came yesterday from the Whatsoever circle of the Kings Daughters that the tank will be set in place in the crippled childrens treatment room at the George Washington building in about three weeks or four at the most.

The circle instituted plans for purchase of the tank some time ago and prepared to use interest money from the Marcus Dedrick Memorial fund to pay out the approximate total cost of $200. Yesterday's financial statement of the Presidents birthday dance committee headed by Common Pleas Judge Hector S Young of more than $250 raised at the dance Jan 30 insured prompt cash payment and upkeep.

Part of the funds from the dance will go to expedite immediate installation and the remainder will go towards upkeep of the tank purchase of braces and shoes for children crippled by infantile paralysis and for any other purposes which will assist in the county's fight against the dread disease.

The Dedrick Memorial fund of $2 000 was established in the will of the late Mrs Alice Dedrick of South Vine street as a memorial to her son with the stipulation that it be used to help needy crippled children. It was willed to the Whatsoever circle.

A committee composed of Mrs O M Young chairman Mrs Charles Elliott and Mrs J C Turner has been making arrangements for installation of the tank.

Visits have been made to nearby hospitals where exercise tanks are used plans have been consulted and details developed to a stage that the committee believes the Marion school's equipment will be superior to any in central Ohio.

The usual tank is made of galvanized iron which corrodes after a time despite regular applications of paint and if not properly made leaks at seams the committee found.

The tank which has been ordered for Marion children will be of stainless steel with a minimum of seams and will be as nearly life-time in durability as possible.

Total cost of the tank including installation will be about $200.

The Baroness.

C[illegible] said Bigelow, as [illegible] ned to Anne's ear. [illegible] New York better [illegible] Where can one find [illegible] cooking? I'm just [illegible] unseasoned Ameri[illegible] I know the food is [illegible] some, but it doesn't [illegible] my palate."

"[illegible]?" asked Bigelow, [illegible] breath as they sat down. [illegible] She's with Thorne Dry[illegible]. What do you sup[illegible] that means?"

"She's probably pouring her tale [illegible] willing ears," said Bige[illegible] "[illegible] you call up your lawyer, [illegible] and ask him to issue [illegible] warning?"

"[illegible] I had no chance to do it [illegible] made such an early start [illegible] morning. Besides—on think[illegible] over—I wondered if I would [illegible] start a suit against her for slander. She might like me to do [illegible] on the chance that [illegible] would come out."

"No harm to threaten," said Bigelow. "The good old American game of bluff, you know."

"But if she calls my bluff, won't it be tantamount to a confession that I have something to hide—if I don't sue?"

"It's tantamount to a confession if you don't even threaten," Bigelow pointed out.

"Yes, I suppose that's true."

"And a bluff might work."

"Yes, of course."

"Let's take the offensive. A surprise attack will sometimes win when [illegible] watchful waiting won't. Let's send the waiter with a note asking them both to come and speak to us. And accuse her of spreading slanderous stories. Intuition isn't proof, you know."

"All right, if you think best," agreed Anne.

She wrote a line on the back of a card and they dispatched it by the waiter. They saw it delivered and the startled looks and excited comments that were exchanged as it was read. Evidently, the baroness and Strong were doubtful about the advisability of accepting the invitation. Strong seemed to be arguing against it. But in the end, they came.

'Take Legal Proceedings!'

"Not wearing your mink coat this evening, Baroness," said Bigelow by way of greeting as they approached.

The baroness had had something on her lips to say, but his opening shot bewildered or confused her and the words died unuttered. The light of defiance faded in her eyes to be succeeded by a look of startled inquiry.

"Please sit down," said Anne, promptly, following up this advantage. "Mr. Bigelow —Mr. Strong."

She did not know that they had already met; Bigelow had never told her of his interview with Strong and Strong perceived this at once, but he merely bowed without speaking. They all sat down.

"I asked you to come and speak to me," Anne went on then, "because I have been told you are spreading a malicious slander about me."

"I say only what I think," answered the baroness, excitedly, her color rising. "When my opinion is asked, I speak what is in my heart."

"What you think of me," said Anne, "is of no consequence whatever. But to accuse me of murder is a vile slander."

"It is what I believe!" cried the baroness passionately, her eyes burning.

"But what you believe has no weight in court I'm afraid," said Bigelow coldly. "Mr. Strong will tell you that. The question is, have you proof of the statements you have been making?"

"Not yet. You have been clever," answered the baroness, "but I will find proof. I will not stop until I find it!"

"Do I understand that you suspect me of assisting in Count Vronski's murder?" asked Bigelow.

"You know best what part you played in it," answered the baroness.

"Yes, and whether I played any part at all," said Bigelow. "But you don't! And unless you can back up your accusations with evidence strong enough to convince a court of law, I advise you to retract your wild statements and to remain silent. Miss Phelps and I have no intention of submitting to your ridiculous assaults upon us. Unless they stop at once, we'll take legal proceedings."

"Take legal proceedings!" cried the baroness furiously.

"Very well. The scandal will be unpleasant but we will certainly be exonerated and then I shall apply to the court to have a commission appointed to investigate your mental condition."

"What?" gasped the baroness, paling.

"Only a mad woman could conduct such a campaign," Bigelow assured her. "It is obvious to any one that you can only succeed in persuading people that you loved Vronski and that you are madly jealous....Perhaps that is your purpose? Perhaps you have something to conceal and you think you can do it by launching this attack?"

She gazed at him, frowning. "I don't know what you mean!" she gasped hoarsely. "I have nothing to conceal!"

"You had better be quite sure of that before you force us to take legal action against you," he answered, shrugging.

Strong had not spoken, but he had listened carefully to every word and it seemed to Anne that he glanced at the baroness now with a new interest in his eyes.

"I don't think there is anything to be said," Anne put in, now.

"Only this," added Bigelow. "Unless we have a written apology from you tomorrow, baroness, we must take legal action. Is that quite clear?"

"Quite," said the baroness grimly.

She turned and left them. With a little bow, Strong followed her. He had remained clear of the whole proceeding....

"Do Over the Studio"

"Well—?" breathed Anne, anxiously looking at Bigelow.

He shrugged. "I think I frightened her a little and I think Strong may urge her to send an apology. But I don't know. Did you think she looked disturbed when I hinted she might have something to hide?"

"Yes, definitely."

"So did I," he murmured. He sat silent, as the waiter served them. Then, when the man had gone again, he turned to Anne.

"How long have you had your studio?" he asked.

"About a year and a half," answered Anne in surprise. "Why?"

"Wouldn't you like to do it up differently? I mean, completely alter the color-scheme and decorations and furnishings?" he asked.

"I was thinking of giving it up, as a matter of fact," admitted Anne.

"I shouldn't do that. Not for the time being," said he. "But I would do it over. Have the walls repainted and the floors refinished."

She frowned a little. "You mean—in case there should be an investigation there—?"

"I don't think anything would come to light," he answered reassuringly. "But nowadays they have such scientific methods of testing blood stains, and so on. It could do no harm to set the painters to work. And it might be [illegible]."

"But wouldn't it [illegible] Wouldn't it attract [illegible] arouse suspicion?"

"I don't see [illegible] tired of [illegible]

"Yes, of course. I'll attend to it tomorrow," Anne decided.

"But I shouldn't mention the plan to anyone until the work is actually underway—not to anyone. You understand — not even to your mother."

"Why not to mother?" asked Anne, startled.

"Only that she might mention it in turn to somebody else, and you can't very well ask her not to without lending the matter enormous importance—just what we don't want to do."

"Yes, I see," Anne said. "But I can't think whom she could repeat it to—that would matter."

"Well, there's her maid—Doris."

"What do you know about her maid, Doris?" asked Anne in surprise.

"Only what Walters confided."

"Walters—?"

"He suspects she has been in touch with Chief Inspector Hagedorn about something—he doesn't know what."

"When did all this happen?"

"Yesterday."

"Why didn't you tell me? And why haven't you mentioned it before?"

"Walters didn't want to distress you or your mother. That's why he told me. And I didn't think it was terribly important. I knew she couldn't know anything about the murder. But if she is in touch with Hagedorn—and we can't rely on her to hold her tongue—we must make sure she doesn't get hold of any important information to pass on."

"Yes, rather," breathed Anne. "I've never trusted Doris. I've said so to mother many times. And mother doesn't like her either. But she does sew beautifully—and she is marvelous with mother's hair. And mother is very particular about that....Should you mention anything to her about Doris going to Hagedorn? Warn her, I mean?"

"No, I don't think so. Nothing to gain by upsetting her."

"No," agreed Anne.

Bigelow takes his aunt to lunch, tomorrow, and they talk of Anne.

Married Comrades

BY ADELE GARRISON

Allen Drake Is Irked Because He Cannot Accompany Group to Maine.

ALL FOUR of us, Harry and Lillian Underwood, Dicky and I, watched Allen Drake's face as he read the translation of the code message from my father, which he had failed to decipher.

He read it through twice—we knew by the movement of his eyes—and then, handing it to Harry Underwood, who was standing next him, he turned and bowed with impressive hauteur to me.

"I congratulate you, Mrs. Graham," he said, "and I yield the palm. You have succeeded where I lamentably failed."

His formal abasement held something as ridiculous as it was stilted, and Lillian irrepressibly voiced the thought which was in all of our minds.

"Don't eat so much humble pie, darling!" she said flippantly. "You will choke on it, and it isn't at all necessary. We all know that an arbitrary private code, such as this is, couldn't possibly be solved, unless by the most extraordinary luck, save by the person to whom it was sent. So don't waste any more time throwing bouquets at Madge and brickbats at yourself. We all have other fish to fry, nineteen different varieties of 'em."

Drake Must Stay

"I haven't," Allen Drake said, stressing the pronoun, and I wondered if there was a tinge of bitterness in his voice.

"My part in this," he went on, "will be to sit here and twiddle my thumbs while the rest of you get plenty of action."

"I know," Lillian said sympathetically, and despite my dislike for Allen Drake's egotism, I found myself mentally echoing her sympathy. "It's mighty tough, but, of course, the chief doesn't give his orders carelessly, and he evidently realizes, as we all do, that you are the only one who, by impersonating him, can keep those devils from suspecting that he is on the job among them.

"And if you think time is going to hang heavily on your hands, I'm here to tell you that we're leaving you a job which, while not worthy of your talents, will still keep you goose-stepping about every waking minute while we're gone. Madge will tell you about it later."

Plan Not Complete

"Why not tell me now?" Mr. Drake said hastily, and he could possibly have made no more pointed his dislike of having any conversation with me.

"Because, darling," Lillian said sweetly, "I haven't got the scheme worked out yet, and I'm going to be busy every waking second from now on getting ready to start for Maine.

"Madge has her things all ready, I happen to know, for she's always ready to rush to the children. But I hadn't planned on taking any trip and I have things to see to, pronto."

Harry Underwood passed the letter to Dicky and rose, grinning in comradely fashion at his wife.

"That goes double for me," he said. "I'll just trot along with you, light of my life. When you've digested that thing, Dicky-bird, you might stroll over to our room and give us the lowdown on your opinion of it."

Dicky is one of the fastest readers I have ever known, and I was not surprised to see him hand the message to Allen Drake and turn back to his friend.

"What opinion is there to give?" he asked. "These are orders the chief is giving us. 'Ours not to reason why', and all the rest of it. I'm going up to pack, too."

First Week—Christianity as a Way

"THE WAY UP"

Thursday, February 11: "They were in the way going up to Jerusalem; and Jesus went before them." Read Mark 10:32-24.

Sitting beside me in the room where I am writing, a college boy has been planning a bicycle tour of England. He had been poring over the road maps to see how he can avoid the hills. If he stays on the level he will miss the best of England — Devon and Cornwall, the Lake District, the downland and the moors. Why should we pity him or smile at him? Do we not study the map of life in advance to see how we can avoid its hills?

Dr. Sperry

The French painter Tissot has illustrated the text. Jesus is seen striding resolutely over the brow of a Palestinian hillside; the disciples straggle wearily behind. A friend once said to me that no interpretation of Christianity could ever satisfy him which did not capture and communicate the energetic spirit which Tissot put into his figure of Jesus. A Christian might as well make his peace with the fact that he cannot travel on the level.

Prayer: Teach us, O Lord, at all times to lift up our eyes unto the hills from whence cometh our help, to set our eyes upon the end of our high calling, and with steady purpose to strive upward in our pilgrimage: through Jesus our Lord. Amen.

CLUBS WILL SPEND $600,000 IN SPRING TRAINING QUARTERS

New York Giants Top List With $60 000 for Trip to Havana Cuba

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK Feb 11 — Major league baseball clubs will spend approximately $600 000 in spring training trips this season with the New York Giants $60 000 trip to Havana topping the list

These figures represent the cost of transporting players to the training camps paying all expenses in training and bringing them back to their respective major league cities for opening games

While most clubs get a minor guarantee from interests in the cities where they train only five are understood to have received substantial advances this season They are the Giants and St Louis Cardinals in the National league and the New York Yankees Philadelphia Athletics and Detroit Tigers in the American

Despite the guarantees most teams figure to lose money on the trips The Giants estimate their deficit will be around $20 000 in spite of perhaps the largest guarantee of the season They were induced to go to Havana by a Cuban brewer who already has deposited their advance in a New York bank

The Cincinnati Reds are turning down a guarantee from Puerto Rican interests to return to Tampa. The Reds have a contract to go to the island but General Manager Warren Giles already has taken steps to break it

The greatest innovation of the training season is the Athletics trip all the way to Mexico City Their schedule of spring games has been greatly curtailed but their guarantee should make up for this

The Cards also have changed camps to improve the state of the exchequer shifting from Bradenton Fla to Daytona Beach because of greater financial inducements President Sam Breadon preferred the calm Bradenton weather to the wind of the east coast but decided to make the change anyway

Receipts of teams training on the Pacific coast this year are expected to be larger because the Coast league has abandoned its rule against playing major league teams

MEETING SCHEDULED TO DISCUSS RELIEF

[illegible] Director Abel and Commissioners Will Outline "Stop-Gap" Program.

[illegible] Relief Director John [illegible] today he will meet this [illegible] next week with [illegible] commissioners to discuss [illegible] Marion county relief [illegible] during the remainder [illegible] "stop-gap" period in which [illegible] has been operating [illegible] funds.

Commissioners authorized Mr. Abel [illegible] to continue caring [illegible] direct relief clients on a restricted commodity basis until Feb. 15 at a cost of approximately $12,000 a month. Marion merchants have responded in good spirit to the county's position, Mr. Abel said, by advancing credit for the relief food and fuel orders.

Provisions of the $4,000,000 relief bill which was passed by the Ohio senate today and which awaits Gov. Davey's signature have not been received by Mr. Abel. He will confer with commissioners as soon as he is informed of details, he said.

The bill is retroactive to Feb. 1 and will supply funds until April 15. Distribution to the various counties will be on a different basis than in 1936 and will be based on need, distressed counties such as Marion being slated to receive larger grants than in the past.

Man of Steel

Stalin Places Official Business Open To Public View but Shields Home Life

This is the fourth in a series of articles on the life of Joseph Stalin, Russia's uncrowned, self-made ruler.

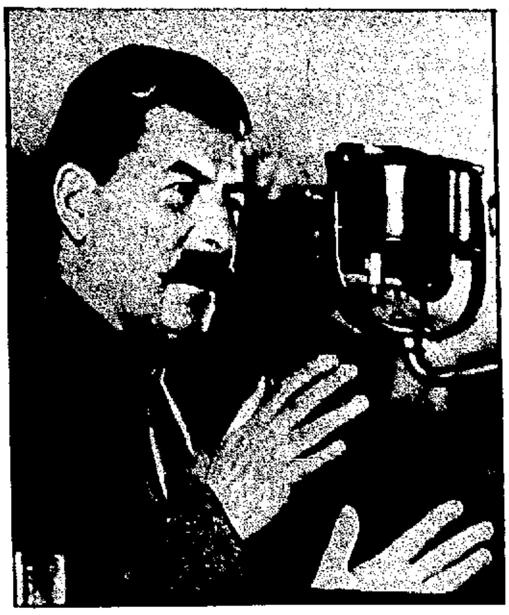
By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Writer



RUMORS DISPROVED
Stalin's appearance before a microphone last fall to report on the new Soviet constitution ended rumors that he either was gravely ill or dead.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11—The home life of Joseph Stalin, the man who guides the destinies of Russia, always has been pretty much of a closed book to the outside world.

While many world figures court publicity about how they live, with a keen eye to the advertising value of such human interest stories, Stalin resolutely declines to parade his private concerns for public inspection. His official life is the affair of the people, but he draws the shades in his humble abode. And school teachers are forbidden to point out his children to visitors in the classroom.

Rumors Ignored

In 1932 when his wife died very suddenly, the cause of death was not published, with the inevitable result that mystery became attached to it. One rumor was that she had died from poison intended for her husband and accidentally diverted to her.

Stalin remained stonily silent in his grief. To him and not to the world belonged the sorrow which deeply lined his face and added to the grayness at his temples. The poison story still persists in many places abroad, but the writer was informed by an unimpeachable source that Madame Stalin died after an operation for acute appendicitis.

Married Twice

Stalin has married twice. He has a grown son, Jasheka, by the first marriage. After divorcing his first wife, Stalin married a 17-year-old Georgian girl, Madya Alliluева, in 1919. It is said to have been a real love match, and the romance lasted until her death. She bore him a boy and a girl—Vasili, who is now about 14, and Svyetlana, who is 8 and the apple of her father's eye.

CLOSEST FRIEND
Maxim Gorky, until his death last year, was the closest friend of Uncrowned Czar Stalin.

A New York street cleaner earns $1,860 a year—$155 a month — and gets a pension when he reaches retiring age. The salary of the head of all the Russians is less, being about $100 a month—$1,200 a year.

That is said to be the top salary for any Soviet official, but communists say it is not so inadequate as it sounds. They point out that the state promises to educate children and to take care of persons who cannot look after themselves, so the wage-earner doesn't have to worry about the finances of the morrow.

No Frills In Home

There is one other "near member" of the family. Stalin has virtually adopted an orphan boy.

Stalin lives with his children in a little flat in the Kremlin. It consists of a tiny hall, three bedrooms and a dining room. There is no kitchen; meals are sent in from a restaurant. The elder son sleeps on a couch in the dining room, his half-brother in a recess off the dining room.

The furnishings are severely plain. The curtains on the windows, for example, are white canvas. There are no frills of any sort.

Stalin doesn't have a great amount of spare time for private pursuits. But he is said to be a most affectionate father, and his little motherless daughter is one of the chief comrades of his private life. Frequently they are seen at the movies.

DEATH UNEXPLAINED
Although the death of Stalin's wife in 1932 caused sensational rumors, her husband offered no explanation.

The Soviet chief lost his dearest friend when death took Maxim Gorky, the famous writer. The two always were visiting each others' homes and talking for hours on end.

Work Imperils Health

Stalin's devotion to work has seriously threatened his health, if not his life, on more than one occasion since he came into power. In 1927 he was ill with a stomach complaint for several weeks. In April, 1929, he suffered a stroke of paralysis and it was not until October that he was able to return to his desk.

As time has gone on, the strain of overwork has shown more and more in his face and in the graying of his hair. Last fall there were persistent reports that he was gravely ill. Indeed, some rumors had him dead, and color was lent to this by the fact that he had not been seen for a considerable time.

In due course he reappeared, however, displaying plenty of vigor, and at the close of the year presented the Soviet with its new constitution.

"The Voice of Experience"... the man with the million dollar throat insists on a light smoke

"My voice is my career. It has inspired more than five million people to confide in me their personal problems. During 25 years, first on the lecture platform and then on the air, I have never missed a single engagement because of my throat. I am a steady smoker, and because my throat and voice are vital to my career I insist upon a light smoke. In Luckies I find a light smoke plus the enjoyment of fine tobacco . . . and that's why Lucky Strikes have been my choice for 14 years."

"The Voice of Experience"
FRIEND AND COUNSELOR TO MILLIONS OF RADIO LISTENERS

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

"The Voice of Experience" verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.

State Legislature Gets County Merger Proposal

Bill in Last Day's Deluge Would Cut Counties from 88 to 22.

consolidate Ohio's ... 22 one of which ... of Marion Mor... Delaware coun... 111 bills placed before the state legislature yesterday before the deadline of unrestricted introduction today The Associated Press reported

The bill was drafted by Rep Lipscher Democrat of Mahoning who said it was designed to produce drastic economies in county government.

Other counties nearby which would be affected include Hardin which would be united with Allen Auglaize and Logan Wyandot and Crawford counties which would combine with Richland and Ashland

The names of the new counties would be taken from the name of the largest county in the unit thus the new group in which Marion county would be placed, would be called Marion county or County No 12 in Lipscher's list

Last Minute Deluge

The general assembly resembled a department store basement on bargain day as everybody who wanted a law passed strove to crowd in his proposal before a midnight deadline introduction of bills.

In 1933 the legislature received 800 bills before the deadline 381 of them on the last day Last night 645 already had been introduced 76 more than on the eve of deadline day in 1933.

After today measures may be introduced only after suspension of the rules and this requires approval of two-thirds of the members of either house

The senate with its small membership is more liberal than the house in receiving bills after the deadline

Rep Gus Kasch Democrat of Summit who set a record by introducing 108 bills in the 1933-34 session is out in front in the present session He has submitted 49 so far and may double the figure by midnight. Edward N Waldvogel Democrat of Hamilton, is leading the senate with 21.

Other Proposals

Among new bills today was one by Rep Ruth Lloyd Democrat of Scioto, to authorize the state to loan inactive funds up to $10 000 000 to building and loan companies in flood districts. Similar loans were made after the 1913 flood to finance rehabilitation of damaged property

Other house bills would increase the governor's salary from $10 000 to $15,000 and provide proportionate increases in other salaries give the state patrol an unlimited force of men levy excise taxes of $1 on each automobile tire and on each ton of steel produced and 25 cents on each barrel of flour milled and permit blind persons to be accompanied by seeing eye dogs on all common carriers

New senate bills would exempt policemen from liability for personal damages while on duty eliminate compulsory appointment of county auditors as deputy registrars of motor vehicles increase the salary of the clerk of the Lorain municipal court and authorize voters to combine the offices of county auditor treasurer recorder and clerks of courts.

NAME SPURS QUIZ OF KIDNAP SUSPECT

By The Associated Press

SEATTLE Feb 11—A report that an arrested ex convict once used the name "Tim" with which the kidnap killer of 10 year old Charles Mattson signed the ransom note prompted renewed questioning today by federal state and city officers

A detective refusing use of his name said the prisoner booked as H A Post 32 seaman must clarify conflicting points about his movements during and after the kidnaping of the boy at Tacoma Dec 27

State police said Post registered as Tim Donovan at a hotel where he was arrested Tuesday They pointed out Tim was the signature used on the $28 000 ransom note left in the Mattson home and was the name under which the kidnaper negotiated before the boy's body was found Jan 11

Post also known as James G McDonald a former convict in the San Quentin Calif prison denied all knowledge of the kidnaping

ARMY HAS ALL FLOOD WORK DATA NEEDED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON Feb 11—Army engineers said today they have all the basic data needed for a comprehensive national flood control project Unofficial estimates placed the cost at $1 500 000 000 over a 10 year period

Maj Gen Edward M Markham chief of engineers said information assembled in the last nine years at a cost of $11 000 000 would enable him to submit such a program within a few days

His report will be in response to a resolution adopted yesterday by the house flood control committee

Among the projects recommended will be flood control reservoirs on big river tributaries dikes to protect centers of population and floodways A third of the amount might go for local dikes to protect river cities

To emphasize the dimensions of their task engineers pointed out that 2 000 000 cubic feet of water a second have been flowing for the last two weeks past Cairo Ill where the Ohio meets the Mississippi

The engineer said there is no way to control the lower Mississippi except by using these floodways and maintaining the existing system of levees

FIREMEN CALLED AS SMOKE FILLS STORE

Ashes Set Fire to Inflammable Material in Pit

Firemen from companies No 1 and 2 were called into the uptown district shortly after 2 o'clock today to extinguish a minor blaze at the Kleinmaier Brothers Co store at 141 South Main street.

The blaze resulting from hot ashes coming in contact with inflammable material was confined to an ash pit which has a surface opening in the alley at the side of the building The ash pit is used to take ashes from the basement to the street level and is of fireproof construction preventing the spread of the blaze

Smoke from the pit spread throughout the building and first led to the discovery of the blaze Smoke damage to materials in the store was thought to be slight After employes at the store noticed the smoke two firemen were called to investigate They discovered the fire and turned in the alarm which was answered by both No 1 and 2 companies

SERVICE CHARGE PLAN ADOPTED BY BANKS

monthly service charge of 50 cents total $1 4?

Thus the service charges of $1 4 exceed the service credits of 90 cents by 5? cents This then is the amount charged against the account at the end of the month

Minimums Set

However some leeway is granted in the excess of service charges over service credits the folder points out In case the service charge does not exceed the service credit more than 14 cents there will be no charge made at the end of the month

The minimum service charge will be 25 cents bankers said While charges below 14 cents will be ignored all those falling between this figure and 25 cents will be charged at the minimum rate

In case no checks are written on the account in the month and no checks on out of town banks are deposited for collection there will be no charge Likewise in this case there will be no service credit allowance on the balance on deposit

The folder points out that there will be no exceptions to the plan It will apply to churches charitable organizations officers and employes of the various banks as well as to accounts of stores business houses industries individuals and all accounts of public offices

The plan also includes certain other features by which the banks will charge for services but these have not been entirely worked out They affect principally non customers

The plan does not affect certificates of deposit or savings accounts bank officials said

While this particular plan of service charge is new in Marion it has been adopted in many other cities and counties in the state officials of the banks here said today It already is in effect in Columbus Lima Bucyrus Galion and Mansfield they said They also said that other banks in Marion county towns were considering adopting the plan, although none has as yet reported specific action

The plan was adopted by action of the three banks the Fahey Banking Co the National City Bank & Trust Co and the Marion County bank which constitute the Marion Clearing House association

The plan Marion bankers said was worked out by representatives of the Ohio Bankers association and is based on a study that reveals that the average cost to the bank of paying a check written on it is three and one half cents and two and one half cents to collect a check written on an out of town bank In drafting the plan it also was considered that three per cent is the average earning rate to the bank of investments made with checking account money

The folder explains the banks reasons for adopting the plan as well as explaining its operation The folder states Every banker tries to serve all his depositors on the same basis regardless of the size of the account We have long endeavored to find some fair and equitable basis on which to serve all checking account depositors After a thorough study we are convinced that the system described herein is the fairest way to provide service to our depositors

The only means a bank has to earn money with which to pay taxes, deposit insurance cost and supplies also the salaries of those who carefully examine every check which you issue and keep your account posted is to invest the money which you have on deposit in your account

During the last few years many depositors have reduced the balances carried in their accounts thus reducing the income but they have continued to write the same number of checks Consequently many have received their checking account service at the expense of other depositors which is not fair

4 INQUIRIES OPEN INTO PLANE CRASH

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO Feb 11—Four groups of investigators sought to learn from torn and twisted wreckage today why a giant airliner only seconds away from its destination plunged 11 persons to death Tuesday night in San Francisco bay

Two theories—too sharp a banking of the plane and misjudging of altitude—were advanced unofficially by expert pilots as searchers dragged muddy waters for the bodies of seven victims Of the four already recovered one victim millionaire Mark Fontana appeared to have drowned despite a struggle to swim after the sleek twin motor ship sank three miles off shore in 25 feet of water

The shattered hulk of the 12 ton 21 passenger plane lifted from the bay yesterday offered no immediate prospect of solution of the bay area's worst airplane tragedy

Experienced pilots said A R Thompson veteran airman who overshot Mills field coming in from Los Angeles may have banked too sharply when he circled out over the bay to come in again thus causing the right wing to buckle and catapult the plane into the water

Other aviators considered more probable the theory that Thompson misjudged his altitude in the darkness and the right wing struck the water somersaulting the plane

Flint Strikers May Quit Plant This Afternoon

Union Leaders To Make Definite Decision on Arrival from Detroit

By The Associated Press

FLINT Mich Feb 11—Evacuation today of three striker-occupied plants here was advanced as a possibility this afternoon as an aftermath of a peace treaty terminating the General Motors strikes

Adolph Germer organizer for the Committee for Industrial Organization who previously had announced the evacuations would be deferred until a mass demonstration could be held on Sunday said this afternoon speedier removal of the men was held under consideration

Wyndham Mortimer first vice president of the United Automobile Workers and Flint organizer were expected to arrive from Detroit about 3 p m the decision will be made then

Sleepy eyed skepticism of the sitdowners quickly gave way to noisy jubilation as the strike committee read newspaper accounts of the settlement over amplifiers to the men who have held Fisher Body plant No 1 for 42 days Cheers greeted each announcement

Leaders members of the United Automobile Workers of America which directed the widespread strikes joyfully received news of the end of the strike but business as usual was the official word pending the actual signing of the peace pact in Detroit

Pickets continued on duty sitdowners maintained their watchful waiting Michigan national guardsmen armed with machine guns and rifles tightened their lines about the 80-acre area which includes the Fisher body plant No 2 and Chevrolet No 4 the other two occupied factories

In Detroit Gov Frank Murphy said the 3 300 national guardsmen on strike duty here would be demobilized as soon as the strikers evacuated the plants and it became evident that order would prevail

Union officials said a giant demonstration would accompany the evacuation

Mayor Harold E Bradshaw who possessed virtually dictatorial powers over the city government for the duration of the strike emergency jubilantly exclaimed that this is the finest thing that could have happened when he learned of the settlement

FEDERAL REGULATION OF GAS RATES ASKED

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND Feb 11—Under a proposal which today carried the approval of representatives of the Cities Alliance a bill would be submitted to congress for federal regulation of inter-state natural gas rates

The bill would set wholesale rates at the city's gates declared Luke I Scheer of Detroit secretary of the group which approved the plan late yesterday at a meeting of representatives of 10 affiliated Ohio and Michigan cities

It would prevent duplication of state investigations of cost it would go into a field where the states have no power without lessening the power of the states

Scheer said there are 61 Ohio cities included in the alliance in addition to 10 Michigan cities and others in Ohio midwestern states

A considerable amount of the gas used in Ohio comes from West Virginia and the legislation which sets up a federal commission to wield regulatory power would have particular significance for the 61 cities served by the East Ohio Gas Co

The rate charged at the Ohio river line was fixed at 35.5 cents per 1 000 cubic feet recently by the Ohio public utilities commission The rate East Ohio pays for gas purchased from the Hope Natural Gas Co of West Virginia is a particular issue in rate disputes between the East Ohio and cities it serves

A Flint [illegible] Adolph Germer organizer for the C I O said that he and Mortimer would go to the strike-held Fisher Body and Chevrolet Motor Co plants this afternoon to explain the agreement and conduct a referendum on acceptance

To Leave Saturday Or Sunday

Germer said the actual evacuation would be deferred possibly until Saturday or Sunday when mass demonstrations would be held

Resumption of full operations would return approximately 100 000 General Motor employes to work in addition to raising 35 000 others from a part time to full time basis

Forty plants of the corporation's various divisions have been closed or operated on a restricted basis completely halting the production of General Motors passenger cars

Since Dec 30 sitdown strikers have held two Fisher Body plants in Flint—the focal point of the labor dispute—and a week ago union workers in the Chevrolet No 4 plant also started a sit down

Daily Pattern for Home Use

BY ANNE ADAMS

SLENDERIZING WORK-A-DAY FROCK A CHEERY SIGHT IN COTTON

Making your own frocks is a happy experience when you've a smart and simple pattern at 4319! Looking forward to a busy season of home making activities? Then make sure you've at least one version of this flattering and comfortable style in your wardrobe to keep you looking young and slim all day long! Trim panels accomplish fashion-miracles in making you appear inches taller, and, cut in one with the brief capelets, they contribute to your frock's easy making. Low V-necks are always becoming and this version boasts the added attraction of saucy pointed revers. A narrow, adjustable tie-belt completes your fashion success. A cheery sight, this frock, in brightly printed percale, sturdy gingham, or plain broadcloth!

Pattern 4319 is available in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 takes 3½ yards 36 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly size, name, address and style number.

Every woman needs our new Anne Adams patern book! Order it today and marvel at the glorious collection of spring fashion "hits" —glamour-giving afternoon and evening frocks—delightful all-purpose styles for kiddies and all-important "Teens!" You'll revel in slimming models, exult in gay sports togs, and thrill to the simplicity of the easiest patterns ever! Book fifteen cents. Pattern fifteen cents. Twenty-five cents for both when ordered together.

Send your order to The Marion Star, Pattern Department, 243 W. 17th St., New York, N. Y.

OLD PENITENTIARY

In 1934 the Ohio penitentiary was [illegible] years old. In 1834 one wing of the prison was completed and the inmates were transferred from the old prison on the bank of the Scioto river in Columbus. There were but 185 prisoners at that time.

Prison labor was employed largely in construction of this prison and the directors of the prison charged the state for 26,231 man-days of labor. In the old records such entries as "released to work on canals," show that the prisoners were often discharged on condition that they take work in the construction of the canals.

STOCKS UP 1-3 AS STRIKE ENDS

Buyers Swarm Market for Shares Before Realizing Shades Advance.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 11—Spurred by news of the General Motors strike truce, buyers swarmed over the stock market today and bid up leaders 1 to 3 or more points to new post-depression peaks.

In an exciting first hour the ticker tape was as much as 5 minutes behind. Activity dwindled later, and profit selling reduced or cancelled many extreme advances near the fourth period.

Terms of the peace agreement was interpreted by some in Wall street as a compromise in which both sides won points.

The afternoon losers up to a point or so were plentiful. Crucible, National Steel, American Rolling Mill, Briggs Mfg., Bendix, Yellow Truck, Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, Macy, Anaconda, Kennecott, American Can, American Telephone, Continental Can, duPont, General Electric, Lima Locomotive, Westinghouse Airbrake, Santa Fe, Union Pacific Lackawanna, Montgomery Ward and Westinghouse.

Bonds and commodities were a bit uneven.

Further fuel for recovery forces was provided by the 1936 earnings statement of Chrysler showing a net of $14.25 a share, best in the company's history. Declaration of a $1.50 dividend was about in line with expectations.

Recent popularity of electrical equipment company issues was attributed partly to estimates in financial quarters that sales in this field during 1937 should record an increase of 25 to 35 per cent over the 1936 volume.

Sterling, in initial foreign exchange transactions, was up 3/16 of a cent at $4.90. The French franc was .00⅛ of a cent higher at 4.66½ cents.

Wool Market

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Feb. 11—Business in spot domestic wools was very slow today and only a few small transactions took place.

Prices held about steady on the limited quantities sold, being mostly on the low side of ranges prevailing during the past two to three weeks.

As a result of the slackening in demand, the recent extreme selling prices were not being realized in current trading.

REBELS REPORTED VALENCIA BOUND

By The Associated Press

Conquering Spanish Fascists drove eastward today along the Mediterranean in what was construed as development of a full force campaign against Valencia temporary seat of the Socialist government.

From Paris, the French, irked by reported Italian assistance last week-end in the Fascist seizure of Malaga, took up again their threats to intervene in the war on behalf of the Valencia government.

Madrid echoed to the roar of artillery and the chatter of machine gun and rifle fire as her insurgent besiegers launched one of the fiercest attacks of recent weeks against Fuencarral, a village on the capital's northern border. Insurgent air squadrons bombed the capital's outskirts.

NEW APPEAL MADE FOR HEALTH SEALS

Returns Asked For Report To Be Made Monday.

A report on the annual Christmas health seal campaign conducted in Marion and Marion county will be made at a meeting of the Marion County Anti-Tuberculosis association Monday night at the office of the president, Dr. E. L. Brady on South Main street.

Mrs. George Ulsh, campaign chairman, today issued an appeal to all persons who have not made their contribution to the seal campaign to do so before the meeting Monday night. "We feel that many persons have overlooked or mislaid their seals sent out before the holidays, and are asking that they take this announcement as a reminder of their annual contributions," Mrs. Ulsh said today. The returns are to be mailed or taken to Mrs. Ulsh at her home at 222 South State street.

Should anyone be in doubt as to whether or not they have sent their returns on the seals, they are asked to call Mrs. Ulsh, who will make a check of her files.
